A CHILD'S ADMISSION TODAY SHAPES THE LEADER OF TOMORROW

My School; My Pride; My Rules

I will always be polite and courteous. I will respect all my teachers. I understand that they are there to encourage me, facilitate my learning, and correct me.

I am responsible for the regularity and punctuality in attending school. I am responsible for my own education. I will strive for Perfect Attendance and no late coming.

I know that Three Terminal Examinations will be conducted in the months of September, December, and April. The Mid Term Test will be conducted between the term. If I am absent, the school will not hold a test again for me.

I will not come to school with gold ornaments or costly trinkets. I know mobile phones are strictly prohibited. iPads and laptops are allowed in case of a class Presentation/Seminar, for which I need to get prior permission from the Class Teacher, Academic Supervisor, and Principal.

I will wear full, clean and prescribed uniforms on all working days.

I will happily do my projects and assignments, complete them and submit them on time.

I will not write or scribble on the school walls and furniture. I will maintain my classroom and campus neat and clean. I will not cause any damage to the school furniture.

If unpleasant happenings bother me, I will report it to my class teacher or Academic Supervisor, who in turn will take it to my Principal. I know they love and care for me. They will understand and support me.

I will happily take part in the co-curricular and extra-curricular activities (CCA & ECA); for I know they shape me and mould my personality.

I will always talk in English, when I am in the school uniform, and maintain discipline and decorum while conversing with others.

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD
